ST. MARKS GUILD

HOLDS ANNUAL BAZAAR

St. Marks Guild will hold its annual bazaar next Tuesday afternoon and evening, commencing at four o'clock, in the Woman's Club building. The decorations of the entire building will carry a Japanese effect.

A pagoda will show many attractive articles, both fancy and household requisites, suitable for Christmas gifts, and for the children there will be a most complete doll-house with a multiplicity of dolls of every sort. This house will have each of its four rooms appropriately furnished; living room, bedroom, dining room, and kitchen; while all the linens and the fancy work for the dwelling will be handmade and of the best. It will greatly please all the children who may be brought by the mothers.

The cake booth will be made a special feature of the bazaar.

The candy booth will be presided over by St. Catharines Guild, as will be the poinsettia booth; and as a special feature this Guild has prepared a "stallion" where good old Santa Claus will be found anxious to become acquainted with all the little ones. This Santa Claus will have some odd notions about Christmas gifts, and the children will be pleased to meet the patron saint and become the closer acquainted with him.

There will be presented to the public a Japanese luncheon, where prettily-garbed Japanese maidens will serve hot roast beef and pork sandwiches, cold ham sandwiches, cream cheese sandwiches, salads of chicken, macaroni, and potato, cakes and pies, and hot coffee, tea, and chocolate.

A cordial invitation to the entire public is heartily extended to visit the bazaar.

STATE SENDS HELP TO 2500 HOMELESS

Thieves Loot the City. Loss Estimated at $12,000,000

Astoria, Oregon, Dec. 9.—Astoria today surveyed its losses from the $12,000,000 fire, which yesterday razed 24 blocks of the city's business section and set on foot measures to relieve the 2,500 persons made homeless by the conflagration.

With the heart of the city still in smoldering ruins, plans for rebuilding were nebulous, but it was the general sentiment that reconstruction on a larger and more substantial scale would start as soon as the more immediate relief needs were supplied.

Hundreds of telegrams offering money and supplies were received and the relief committee announced large amounts of staple goods and quantities of clothing were needed at once. Word from Portland was that a special train carrying supplies would be sent from there today.

Summarized, the situation was as follows:

Twenty-five hundred persons homeless.

The city without banking facilities.

No food obtainable except from a central distributing station swiftly established by an organized committee of fifty.

Last night beds were provided for all and hot meals were served at several stations.

Hundreds of homes have been thrown open to those made destitute and orders were given to commandeer all of the city's food supplies.

Lighting facilities were partly restored last night, but throughout the darkened district a heavy guard of soldiers and special policemen prevented looting.

Looters Are Arrested.

Chief of Police Carlson said that 14 men had been arrested by his officers during the confusion and that all were attempting to carry away articles from stores within the district.

Firefighting apparatus still was working early today and will continue until all the embers have been extinguished.

Officials of the Oregon national guard sent seventeen officers and men here from Portland with 1,000 coats, 2,000 blankets and rolling kitchens, cooking and food supplies. The latter equipment would be sufficient to feed 3,500 persons in emergency, it was stated, although it was estimated the demand would not be that great.

The churches were in the path of the flames, but none were burned. In each case the fire was either checked before the church was reached or veered around the house of worship.

Soldiers from Fort Stevens and sailors from a cutter stationed in the harbor aided the police in patrolling the burned area last night. When flames threatened the city jail the doors were opened and about 35 prisoners were released. The jail docket disappeared and no record of the malefactors could be found.

Prisoners from the county jail were released when flames seemed to threaten that structure. Three convicted men said to be waiting transportation to the state penitentiary under District Attorney Erickson in removing law books and furniture from his office.

"THROUGH FILMLAND"

AT GRAND ON MONDAY

Kodak Park, Rochester, is as truly the home of the "movies" as Hollywood. One is the industrial home, the other the home of its art. In one is the film made, in the other the film story. In one are assembled stars, scenic artists, stage directors and photographers for the production of the pictures themselves. In the other are mobilized scientists, film experts and an army of skilled technical workers for the production of the picture film without which motion pictures could not be.

In "A Trip Through Filmland" at the Grand theater Monday, this industrial home, from the cotton grower to the studio, is told for the first time. It is told too, in an interesting and entertaining manner that has been delighting every movie fan in the country.

Introducing the pictures are some clever comedy drawings representing a congress of nations who, failing to understand each other's language, resort to the universal language of the movies. "Tell it in movies," says a young American delegate, and in the movies is it
